THE LEGEND OF HIRAM ABIFF

The blue lodge is centered upon the legend of Hiram Abiff. This legend has its historical basis in 1 Kings 7 and 2 Chronicles 2. King Hiram of Tyre sent a skilled man, also called Hiram, to Israel, to help King Solomon build the Temple of the Lord.

If we are to understand many of the degrees of Freemasonry, we must first understand the Masonic legend built around this "Hiram Abiff".

Let's take a quick glance at it ... Remember this is only a Masonic legend! (Legend means non-historical story with no or limited truth)

Hiram Abiff, "a widow's son" from Tyre, skillful in working with all kinds of metals, was employed to help build King Solomon's Temple.

The legend tells us that one day, while worshipping the Grand Architect of the Universe (GAOTU) within the Holy of Holies, Hiram was attacked by three ruffians, who demanded the "Master's word", the secret name of God.

The first ruffian, named Jubela, struck Hiram across the throat with a 24 inch gauge. The second ruffian, named Jubelo, struck Hiram's breast, over the heart, with a square. The third ruffian, named Jubelum, struck Hiram upon the forehead with a gavel, whereupon Hiram fell down dead. His blood, therefore, was shed within the temple.

Hiram's body, was carried out the East gate of the Temple and buried outside Jerusalem on Mount Moriah.

Early the following morning, King Solomon visited the temple and found the workmen in confusion because no plans had been made for the day's work. Fearing evil had befallen Hiram, King Solomon sent out twelve Fellowcraft Masons to look for Hiram. King Solomon himself accompanied the three who traveled East.

Having finally located the grave of Hiram, Solomon and his fellow Masons dug up the body. A search was made for the Master's word (the name of God), but all that was found was the Letter "G". Discovering the word was lost, a lament went up: " O Lord, my God, is there no help for the widow's son? "

Solomon summoned all twelve Fellowcraft Masons, formed a circle around Hiram's body, and attempted to raise him from the grave.

They first took hold of Hiram's body with the "Boaz" grip of the first degree. This failed to achieve its purpose.

They then re-positioned their hold upon Hiram's body using the "Jachin " grip of the second degree. This also failed to accomplish its purpose.

Solomon finally raised Hiram from the dead by using the third degree grip of the Master Mason, the five points of fellowship (explained shortly), and by uttering in Hiram's ear the phrase Ma-Ha-Bone.

(other renditions of the legend of Hiram Abiff leave Hiram in the grave)

While the degrees of the Blue Lodge are based upon this part of the legend. The Scottish and York base themselves largely upon the Hiram legend after Hiram Abiff's resurrection.

The Scottish Rite 4th to 14th degrees

The Legend Of Hiram Abiff continues...

Hiram Abiff has been raised from the dead. However, he soon leaves the legend, for he has been ushered into a more glorious existence.

Solomon is left to continue building the Temple. Many decisions have to be made. Solomon first selects seven expert masons to guard the Temple, before holding a requiem for the departed Hiram Abiff. Solomon then appoints seven judges to hand out justice to the workmen building the Temple.

Five superintendents are installed to oversee the continuing building of the Temple. Solomon then focuses upon apprehending the assassins of Hiram Abiff. He appoints nine Masters, who begin the search for the assassins. The first assassin is discovered asleep. He is stabbed in the heart and head, then decapitated.

Solomon hears a report that the other two assassins have fled to Gath, the birthplace of Goliath. Solomon selects fifteen Masters, including the original nine, who apprehend them. They are placed in prison, and then executed. Solomon rewards twelve of the Masters by making them Governors over the twelve tribes of Israel.

Solomon finally appoints a builder by the name of Adoniram as the sole successor to Hiram Abiff. Adoniram becomes chief architect of the Temple, which is finally completed.

The legend doesn't stop here, however. Solomon begins to build a Temple of Justice upon the site of a Temple built by Enoch (remember, this is Masonic legend, not biblical truth!), who placed within the Temple a stone bearing the Name of God.

Adoniram, the chief architect, and two other workmen begin building the Temple of Justice only to discover Enoch's stone. Solomon and Hiram of Tyre, the Grand Masters of Freemasonry, have little choice but to initiate the three workmen into the secrets of the Craft. All three are taught the correct pronunciation of the Name of God.

Scottish Rite 15th to 16th degrees

As the freemason progresses through the Scottish Rite, 15th – 16th degrees, the Legend of Hiram Abiff continues...

The Temple of Solomon was destroyed around 586 B.C.. The Name of God was once again lost. Jerusalem was taken captive, and the Babylonian captivity began.

The captives lived in Babylon for seventy years until King Cyrus of Persia, who was a Master of Freemasonry, had a dream. He dreamt that a lion appeared to him, saying "liberty to the captives". Under the lion's direction, Cyrus proclaimed the release of the Jews. He ordered them to construct a second Temple under his guidance.

Many of the Jews, especially Nehemiah and Ezra, were initiates of the Masonic mysteries. They directed all the Masons within the midst of the Jews to make the journey from Babylon to Jerusalem with their swords by their sides and trowels in their hands.

Despite great sorrow and travail, the Temple was completed in the reign of Darius, successor to Cyrus.

Darius chose Zerubbabel as Grand Master in charge of the construction of the second Temple. Having passed difficult rites of initiation, Zerubbabel was given the title of Sovereign Prince of Jerusalem, and was entrusted with the sacred vessels Nebuchadnezzar had taken from Solomon's Temple.

Zerubbabel, together with King Darius, then founded a new order of Temple builders known as Knights of the East. These Knights were among the Masonic workmen who took part in the construction of the Second Temple. This new order of knights became a warrior fraternity.

The Scottish Rite

Progressing through the 17th to 29th degrees of Freemasonry the Legend of Hiram Abiff continues...

So far we have read about the Hiram legend of past events. Let's now take a look at the way present day Freemasonry builds upon the legend of Hiram Abiff. Below is a composite picture of the Masonic dedication - within the life of the individual Mason - of the Temple of the Great Architect of the Universe. Including many Scottish Rite rituals (of degrees 17-29), the following describes how the priest of Freemasonry makes his way from the outer court of the Temple to the Altar of Incense before the veil .

Let's now take a look...

We shall create another composite picture of the manner by which the priest Freemasonry enters the Holy of Holies when considering the York Rite.

The Freemason slowly makes his way into the outer court of the Temple. He presents an image of spotless purity, for he is dressed in a chalk-white gown linen with a matching turban, which has the words "Holy unto the Lord" upon its front. Around his waist is a scarlet sash with twelve golden stars upon it!

Many trumpets begin to blow with anticipation. Kneeling before a group of linen clad men, the Mason is anointed with oil. With quiet satisfaction, the priests of Freemasonry declare him to be "a priest forever after the Order of Melchizedek".

The new priest of Freemasonry walks to the Brazen Altar. He solemnly pulls up his sleeves. Offering up his arms to assistants, the Masonic priest allows his arms to be cut with ceremonial knives!

With an expression of solemn dignity, the priest watches impassively as his blood pours out, and runs down his arms before being collected in a bowl. Taking a bowl, the priest of Freemasonry sprinkles some of his own blood upon the altar, demonstrating that he himself is the blood sacrifice for sin!

Other priests bind his wounds, and then lead him to the laver of water. Again, with great dignity, the priest washes his arms, hands and face slowly, with great care to remove every unclean substance from his body. Only then is the priest of Freemasonry ready to enter the Temple.

With measured steps the priest leads a procession of priests of the Masonic Order through the columns Boaz and Jachin, and under the keystone bearing the initials of Hiram Tyrian, Widow's Son, Sent To King Solomon.

The priest proceeds towards the Altar of Incense, which burns with fiery coals before the veil of the Holy of Holies. He notes with satisfaction the Candlesticks and Tables of Shewbread, representative of the glory of the Great Architect of the Universe, and the word of Jah Bul On.

Arriving at the Altar of Incense, the Priest of Freemasonry stops. Suddenly, with a dramatic gesture, he holds up a copy of the New Testament, before lighting it with the hot coals!

The priests watch silently and intently while the flames consume the New Testament.

When the flames disappear, the priest of Freemasonry declares: "It is finished! "

What blasphemy!

The Scottish Rite 30th to 33rd degrees

The Hiram legend ends with the house of Kadosh.

Upon entering the thirtieth degree, the Freemason enters the holy house of the Great Architect of the Universe, and rests from his labor. He can sing with truth the song:

*There is no occasion for level or plumb line,
For trowel or gavel, for compass or square;
Our works are completed, the Ark safely seated,
And we shall be greeted as workmen most rare.*

The gates of the New Jerusalem have opened to him, for he is now said to be perfect! He has become an eternal Temple in which the Great Architect of the Universe abides.

The York Rite 1st to 10th degrees

Two sections ago we left the priest of Freemasonry in the Holy Place, before the Altar of Incense. He had burnt the New Testament, declaring it finished.

Remembering that this account consists of rituals of the York Rite, let us see what happens next...

*To the growing excitement of the Masonic Order, the priest takes his own blood from a bowl and places it upon the four horns of the Altar of Incense. He offers up prayers on behalf of the brethren, beginning with the reverent words:
"Almighty and Sovereign Grand Architect of the Universe, thou who ridest in the heavens by the name of Jah ...".*

When his prayer has finished, the priest turns, and solemnly nods his head. At this signal, seven priests of Freemasonry fan out throughout the Holy Place and extinguish the flames of the candlesticks.

When the Holy Place is in darkness, the priest walks the few short steps to the veil, sprinkles his blood on the ground seven times, and declares loudly, "I am King of Heaven, and King of Earth and Hell!"

Throwing his rod, symbolic of the Aaronic priestly order, down before the veil, he declares, "I Am, I Am ". He then rends the veil from top to bottom, picks his rod of priesthood up, and leads the Masonic priesthood arrogantly into the "Holy of Holies "

Before him lies the Ark of the Covenant with its Mercy Seat. Upon the seat are three skulls, while a skeleton lies before the ark.

Off to the side is an empty throne of gold.

Stepping boldly up to the Mercy Seat, the priest of Freemasonry sprinkles his own blood upon it seven times.

The priest then proceeds to open the Ark of the Covenant, declaring the name of Jah Bul On. He takes out of the Ark the rod of Aaron, and the tablets of the law, offering them to the other priests, who carefully place upon each item the mark of the square, compass and level.

The contents are then put back in the Ark, before the skulls and an axe are replaced upon the Mercy seat.

As one, the priests of Freemasonry turn and watch as a replica of the Temple capstone, bearing the name Tetragrammaton, is placed before the Ark.

The ceremony now reaches its climax.

Slowly, deliberately, yet with anticipation, the priest of Freemasonry approaches the golden throne. Before seating Himself upon the throne, he is arrayed with a gown of royal blue and gold. A golden crown is then slowly lowered upon his head, signifying the attainment of godhood!

As the crown settles upon his head, the priest of Freemasonry is suddenly transfigured with blazing light. The Holy of Holies and the remainder of the Temple are also filled with the radiance of the light of the Great Architect of the Universe. The glory of the Great Architect of the Universe has filled his temple, and priest. Both have been found worthy; both have been sealed with the glory of the Great Architect of the Universe!

The Temple has been completed

LIES OF FREEMASONRY

LEADER – Reads

The Bible is not to be literally obeyed as it is merely symbolic of God's will. The Bible is part of God's revelation and other books of faith are equally acceptable.

There is no need to repent, because man is not sinful.

Whatever a person believes is the truth.

Man's redemption comes by his own good deeds and righteousness.

We can be a god.

Every degree of Freemasonry reveals more light and Light is darkness visible.

A Freemason is a free man.
